

Instructions for authors

Introduction

Review of the Air Force Academy welcomes contributions on research related to the aerospace engineering, air traffic management, flight operation systems, aircraft performances, flight control, logistics and aeronautical management, air force, English language for aviation, human factors, psychology and medicine in aviation, aerospace education and training.

Review of the Air Force Academy is primarily interested in papers developing increased insights into real-world problems through novel mathematical modelling, novel applications or a combination of these. Papers employing existing numerical techniques must demonstrate sufficient novelty in the solution of practical problems. Papers in the area of aerospace logistics and business modelling should demonstrate meaningful managerial insight.

All manuscripts are anonymously peer reviewed and checked for plagiarism with sistemantiplagiat.ro.

Also, please visit Review of the Air Force Academy's Electronic service at: <http://www.afahc.ro>

Authorship

All authors should have made substantial contributions to all of the following: (1) the conception and design of the study, or acquisition of data, or analysis and interpretation of data, (2) drafting the article or revising it critically for important intellectual content, (3) final approval of the version to be submitted.

Conflict of interest

All authors are requested to disclose any actual or potential conflict of interest including any financial, personal or other relationships with other people or organizations within three years of beginning the submitted work that could inappropriately influence, or be perceived to influence, their work. Submission of an article implies that the work described has not been published previously (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture or academic thesis or as an electronic preprint, that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere, that its publication is approved by all authors and tacitly or explicitly by the responsible authorities where the work was carried out, and that, if accepted, it will not be published elsewhere in the same form, in English or in any other language, including electronically without the written consent of the copyright-holder.

Copyright

Upon acceptance of an article, authors will be asked to complete a "Journal Publishing Agreement". An e-mail will be sent to the corresponding author confirming receipt of the manuscript together with a "Journal Publishing Agreement" form or a link to the online version of this agreement. Authors retain the copyright and full publishing rights without restrictions.

Language

Please write your text in good English (American or British usage is accepted, but not a mixture of these).